

January 2016

Vizant's Activities in Treasury and Payments

Vizant is looking forward to continued thought leadership events in 2016. On January 12th, Vizant had the opportunity to speak before the Healthcare Financial Management Association's (HFMA) Panama City Florida chapter. Vizant spoke on maximizing efficiencies in hospital and healthcare provider treasury and banking services provider relationships. Our presentation was given by one of Vizant's Senior Payments & Treasury Advisors, Brian Swanson. On January 13th, another one of Vizant's Senior Payments & Treasury Advisors, Gabe Guerrero, spoke before the Association of Financial Professionals (AFP) Kansas City chapter. His session topic was around leveraging efficiencies with banking and other third party services providers. (https://twitter.com/_Vizant)

We are also excited to announce that Vizant will be a first-time major sponsor for the annual NACHA Payments Conference in Phoenix on April 17-20. Vizant Executive Vice President Angie Grunte will be leading a panel of corporate treasurers that includes Anita Patterson of Cox Communications and Kim Shalewitz of LabCorp in a discussion of the topic: "B2B Payments – The Corporate Perspective: Innovation and Efficiency" (<https://payments.nacha.org/Buzz-TrackSessions>), which will take place on Tuesday, April 19th. Additionally, Vizant will be the exclusive sponsor of the Payments 3D Innovation Hub, which will feature fastpaced, interactive demonstrations that debut the next wave of payments industry innovations (<https://payments.nacha.org/3D-Innovation-Hub>).

Building on our success from last year's leading sponsorship of the AFP Conference, Vizant will assume an even higher visibility and presence at this year's meeting on Oct. 23-26th in Orlando. Vizant will be the exclusive sponsor of the CTC Reception on Sunday, Oct. 23rd as well as two of the Sunday night welcome reception events: Bob Marley's "A Tribute to Freedom: We be Jammin" and Pat O'Brien's "Let the Good Times Roll." Should be a lot of fun!

Vizant will also be participating in many regional treasury and payments professional meetings and conferences across the USA in 2016. As the leading authority on treasury operations and payments, we are excited to continue to provide unique insight and commentary in this very complex and ever changing financial world.